Are the 'Longshore Association's Rules in Violation of Public Policy?

MRS. COMPTON'S SANITY.

Cæsar's Great Battle-Both Sides Claiming a Victory.

PRIZES WON, BUT UNPAID FOR

In Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, Mr. Astthew P. Breen appeared before Judge Donohue, representing a large number of members of Branch No. 2 of the 'Longahoremen's Union Protective Association, and obtained an order directing the officers of the association to show cause before the Court, on the ciation, and obtained an order directing the officers of the association to show cause before the Court, on the first Monday of May, why a resolution passed by that corporation expelling all members who worked for less than forty cents an hour should not be declared nuil and void, as being against public policy and contrary to law. It appears by the papers in the case that out of the 1,000 members of the entire association in the city of New York but 200 receive forty cents an hour, although a certain bylaw declares that any members working for less than forty cents is lable to expulsion. It is alleged that the resolution of the society is the result of a combination of certain members concerns of the organization; that the organization has about $6,000 in the treasury, and by this combination they will be in a position to control the affairs of the organization and prevent members who work for their reduction of the prices of labor, and that when such a resolution is offered the President refuses to entertain it; that it the members were permitted to exercise their rights and privileges they would be able by a large majority to carry a resolution reducing the rate of wages to thirty cents an hour, in conformity with the general custon among that class of laborers throughout the custon among that class of laborers throughout the custon among that class of haborers throughout the custon among that class of habor

THE COMPTON LUNACY MATTER. This matter was up again yesterday before Chief Justice Daiy in the Court of Common Pleas. From the papers read it appears that Mrs. Maria Compton, the lunatic, is now eighty-two years of age and is the wislow of Anthony Compton, who died in May, 1873, caving a large estate, the bulk of which he bequeathed to his wife and her heirs. The only heirs of Mrs. Compton are two grandchildren, Reubea A. Compton and Anthony Compton. The only other relatives who appear are Margaret Vall Smith, wife of Phineas Smith, a great nicee, and Martha Giffin, for three months the wife of a son who died forty years ago. Seen after the death of her husband Mrs. Compton exsecured attrust deed to the executors of her husband's will by which she reserved to herself the income of the property bequeathed to her for hite and provided that upon her death it should be divided equally between her arandohildren. On the 30th day of March. 1876, Margaret Vail Smith took her from her residence in Thirteenth street and obtained from her a deed of her residence for the consideration of $1. Shortly after this lunacy proceedings were instituted against her, the result of which was that she was adjudicated a lunatic in May, 1876, and her trustees were appointed the committee of her estate, and Sophie J. Compton, the wite of her grandson Reuben, with whom she had been living for several years, was appointed the committee of her person. The present controversy originated in an exparte order obtained by the Messra Wightman on the 6th of March last, by which they, with such physicians as they might select, together with relatives and friends, were allowed to call and visit Mrs. Compton at her residence and elsewhere and to hold private interviews with her in reference to her allairs. Messra Maolay and Mudge moved to set aside that order upon the ground that such indiscriminate visitations as the order allowed were injurious to Mrs. Maria Compton, and in support of their motion presented the opinious of Drs. Brown, Clymer, Choate and Barstow, who had attended her, to that effect. Judge Larremore, before whom the motion was argued, referred the matter to Gark Bell, Esq., to take proofs and report as to the sanity of Mrs. Compton, as an appeared to the Court a petition for relief. Pending this reference, and without naving offered any proof of order allowed were dependent on the senting of the compton as the court as petition for relief, and proofs and report as to the sanity of Mrs. Compton, as the court of reference as to make it equivalent to the trial of the traverse of the inquisition by which she was lound a lunatic. The counsel for the committees, in opposition to the motion, presented affidavit will by which she reserved to herself the income o upon her, and that she is in all respects kindly treated and that her comfort and welfare are sorupulously studied by those having her in charge.

Two papers signed by Mrs. Compton, one on the 11th of April and one on the 16th, were also read. In these the says:—"Mr. Wightman wanted me to have him get my rights back. I signed some paper which he brought me. I don't know what was in it, except that it was to get my rights back. I do not want to get me court. I do not want anything done to bring my friends into court. I never authorized lawver Wightman to bring any matters into court. I did not know the paper I signed for him was to go into court. I wish to withdraw it."

The counsel for the committee contended that upon all the facts before the Court all the proceedings of the Missrs. Wightman should be set aside. The motion was adjourned at the request of Messrs. Wightman to enable them to present expert testimony as to the present mental condition of Mrs. Compton.

For the motion, Messrs. S. K. & F. B. Wighfman; opposed, Messrs. Maclay & Madge and S. P. Nash.

A DRAWN BATTLE.

There was a large gathering in Supreme Court, Part 1, yesterday morning, waiting for the verdict in the tase of August Clesar against Pailip Krieger, the be allenation of the affections of Casar's wife. When Judge Lawrence took his seat upon the bench the three lawyers engaged in the case-Messrs, John P. D'Neil and William F. Kintzing for the plaintiff and D'Neil and William F. Kintzing for the plaintiff and Mr. Charles W. Brooke for the defendant—were in metendanca. Mr. August Cæsar, neatly attired, sat by his counsel, and seemed hopeful that he might be yindicated. Krieger, the wealthy dealer in pork, was nervous and alogety, and piled his counsel with inquiries. His Honor, Judge Lawrence, first called the calendar of the Court, and afterward directed the Cierk to call the names of the jurges who sat in judgment upon the case of Cæsar vs. Krieger. When saked whether they had agreed upon a verdict the foreman answered, "We have not; it seems impossible for us to agree." Judge Lawrence thereupon said, "Gentlemen, you are discharged from further consideration of this case." The jury stood eleven for Mr. Cæsar, the plaintiff, and one for Mr. Krieger, the defendant.

VINDICATING A SEAMSTRESS. Mrs. Ottilia Ensite brought suit in the Superior Court against the firm of Erlich & Sternfeld and John McDonough, a City Marshal, to recover the value of a stock of lancy goods seized by the defendants under a and against one Mrs. Mannberger. The cause was tried belore Judge Speir and a jury, in the Superior Court, yesterday, Messrs. Kurzman & Yeaman representing the plaintiff and N. A. Chedsey the defendants. It appeared on the trial that Mrs. Mannberger, the owner of a lancy store at No. 894 second avenue, had employed Mrs. Ensile, the plaintiff, as a scamstress in her store, and had borrowed from her from time to time various sums of money; that finding herself unable to repay the amount she sold out the store to ner. Under thus sale Mrs. Ensile was in possession at the time the defendants appeared with their execution. Solomon Stornfeld then told her that he knew she was rightfully in possession and that they would not disturb her, but the next day, while she was absent, they returned, entered the store, and carried off all the stock. The jury, upon this state of facts, promptly rendered a verdet in favor of plaintiff for the value of the property, $750, and thus vindicated the rights of the poor scamstress. and against one Mrs. Manuberger. The cause was tried

ATHLETIC SPORT PRIZES. Messra. Black, Starr & Frost, jeweilers, of this city, brought suit against The Saratoga Rowing Association to recover $996 for cups and medals furnished to the association to be distributed as prizes for athletic sports of contestants from various coileges. The case came Judge Van Brunt and a jury, in Part 3 of the Supreme Court. The evidence was to the effect that a commit-tee on athletic sports, of which a Mr. Wright was troat-arer, was appointed by the association to make ar-rangements for the running, waiking and leaping con-tests, and that this committee relied principally on subscriptions from the hotel proprietors to pay for the prizes, but this failed. Wright's orders to the plain-tiffs, however, were given and acted upon as being in the name and on the authority of the association. In his testimony yesterday he rather "went back" on this theory, for he stated that he did not have authority to

In the divorce suit of William Campbell against Anna Louise Campbell, the facts of which have already been fully published in the Herald, an order was made by Judge Bononne, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, referring the case to Horace M. Ruggies, to take testimony as to what almony and counsel fee should be allowed to the defendant. The wife, in her affidavit, alleges that her husband is worth $300,000, has an income of $20,000 a year, and should be ordered to pay her almony at the rate of $120 per week and a counsel tee of $1,600.

Mrs. Mary Holehan brought a suit against Frederick A. Boon to recover damages for alleged assault and battery. She charged that some words passed between them, and the defendant, without provocation, shapped her in the face. The case was tried before Judge J. F. Daly yesterday, and resulted in a verdict for $25 for the plaintiff.

Charles Gortis sued the city to recover the value of a horse which was backed off pier 30 East River in December, 1867. He charged that the city had not built the stringplece as high as the law required and that the accident resulted from defendant a negligence. The defence avers a general denial. The case came to trial yesterday before Judge J. F. Daly and resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

There has been a leak somewhere or else a failure in the usual appropriations to pay the jurors summoned and empanelled on trials in the United States District Court. Judge Blatchford yesterday was compelled to inform the jurors expecting returns that there was no appropriation on hand to meet their cases.

In the case of the Emma Sliver Mining Company against Trenor W. Park and H. H. Baxier, Judge Wallace yesterday snomitted the case to the jury. His opening to the close. This would have been a good time for Brother Beach to have suggested to Brother Stoughton the propriety of increased compensation to the jurors. The opportunity was not availed of and the jury retired with directions from the Court that they should, it they agreed in the meantime, render a scaled verdict to their foreman, to be presented at the opening of the Court this morning.

GENERAL SESSIONS-PART 1. Before Recorder Hackett

THE PATE OF A "STRAW" BAIL MAN. A wholesome lesson was yesterday administered by Recorder Hackett in the case of Neptune Bowden, who was recently convicted of perjury. The prisoner, who was tried by Assistant District Attorney Russell, had falsely sworn that he owned property valued at $40,000, and upon fraudulent representations a man named George F. Parker, who had been arrested for obtaining goods under false protences, was admitted to bail, Bowden becoming his bondsman. It subsequently transpired that Bowden, Farker and a person named Cooley were engaged in a bogus commission business in Fulton street, and these parties, tearning that the authorities were on their track, fleet to Phikadelphia. Detectives O'Connor and Field, of the District Altorney's office, pursued and captured them. As aircady mentioned, Bowden was tried and convicted and was yesterday arraigned for sentence. The Recorder received to the terrible amount of perjury that was committed by those who went on bail bonds, and added that he regretted the law did not impose a more severe penalty. In this case he would inflict the full punishment prescribed—ten years in the State Prison at hard labor. George F. Parker was then arraigned by Assistant District Attorney Russell on the charge of larceny and pleaded guilty. The Recorder sent him to the State Prison for three years. $40,000, and upon fraudulent representations a man

ALLEGED FORGERY. William Martin, a lawyer, in Nassau street, was ar-

the accused procured $12 from William Waterman, of No. 272 West street, on a shock on the Park Bank of America, purporting to be signed by William L. Rubbell, of No. 10 Waverley place. It was subsequently discovered that the check was worthless and that the signature of Mr. Hubbell was forged. The Recorder fixed ball in $1,000, in default of which Martin was committed to the Tomba. AN OLD TRICK.

An old swindling trick was revived on the 19th inst ander the following circumstances:—Patrick McCarley, a truck driver, was carrying four boxes of braid, valued at $911, the property of Edward V. Rowe, No. 142 Grand street, to a steamboat for shipment. He was halled by a respectable looking man, who engaged him to carry a box, stating that it was to be sent to the to carry a box, stating that it was to be sont to the same destination as the other property. The truckman consented, and went to the premises, at the corner of Broadway and Leonard street. He accompanied the stranger up stairs, but the latter said had forgotten his keys and asked McCarley to wait a few moments. The stranger descended the stairs, jumped on the truck and drove off, the poor truckman only discovering his loss after waiting for a considerable time. The property, however, was afterward traced to Williamsburg, where it was stored by Joseph Seymour, No. 442 Grand street. When confronted by the truckman he was at once identified as the may who asked him to carry the box. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to lour years and six months in the State Prison.

Daniel Sullivan and John Manning pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree. It appeared that the prisoners broke into the boarding house of Christian at $20. Four years and a half in the State Prison.

John King, No. 22 Grand street, also pleaded guilty John King, No. 22 Grand street, also pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree. He broke into the store of Hannah Luch, No. 203 South Fitth avenue, with the object of stealing. Three years in the Penitentiary.

Catherine Smith, a domestic employed by Mrs. Bertha Cohen, No. 207 Grand street, stole a gold watch and chain and a lace shawl on the lifth inst. She pleaded guilty, and being an old offender she was sent to the State Prison for four years.

Francis Eberhardt, who gave his address as No. 28 Gold street, a tinsmith by occupation, who obtained goods on forged checks, pleaded guilty to one indictment for forgery and was sent to the Penitentiary for one year.

The Court adjourned for the term.

GENERAL SESSIONS-PART 2. Before Judge Gildersleeva THE REILLY HOMICIDE.

Assistant District Attorney Herring called to the bar yesterday John Daly, who was tried and convicted on Thursday last of murder in the second degree for his participation in the killing of Francis J. Reilly, of No. 6 Ridge street, on the night of the 3d of March. Before sentence was about to be passed—that involving imprisonment for life—Mr. William F. Howe, who appeared for the prisoner, moved for a new trial, on the ground that certain evidence was improperly admitted during the trial, to which he excepted at the time, and hiso upon the usual ground that there were errors in the charge to the jury. While he admitted the prisoner had a fair trial he claimed the verdict was not warranted by the evidence, because it was impossible that the accused should know what was passing in the minds of the others who are alleged to have taken part in the killing of Relliy. Mr. Howe argued these points at length, and at the conclusion Judge Gildersieeve said that, while he concurred in the verdict of the jury, it was certainly a novel case of the kind, and in view of the question of law raised by the counsel he would remand the prisoner and reserve his decision. sentonce was about to be passed-that involving im-

Mortimer Shea, an old offender, residing at No. 15 Roosevelt street, pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree. He stole a quantity of eigars from the store of Daniel Manly, No. 14 Roosevelt street. Three years in the State Prison.

The Court adjourned until Wednesday next.

PENITENTIARY BIRDS. In the Kings County Court of Sessions yesterday the following prisoners were sentenced by Justice

Henry M. THE PACIFIC MAIL SUIT.

The Grand Jury dismissed the complaint brought by Ruius Hatch against Richard B, Irwin for the alleged embezzlement of $750,000.

DIEDENDORF'S REVENGE.

Herman Diedendorf, an honest looking German shoemaker, called at the Tombs Folice Court yesterday, and confidentially told the magistrate that his patience months been in the habit of getting gloriously drunk on schnapps once a day and while in such condition her favorite amusement was to assume charge of his bench and terrorize over the customers. Herman had adopted many devices to circumvent his frolicsome frau, such as hiding the awis and wax and turning the bench upside down, but she invariably came out victo-rious. Life had in consequence ceased to be a blessing to him and he was now determined on punishing her with the law.

"How would six months on the Island answer?" suggested the magistrate.

Herman had bardly anticipated so rigorous a sentence, and intimated that it was more than he would like for her. He thought, however, that she should be flued. "All right," replied the magistrate; "then I will fine her $10."

"But will de first rate," answered the satisfied Teutob, drawing a plethoric pocketbook from his pocket and counting out the amount. Then he left the court room with his wife, apparently well pleased at the course of justice.

ENGINEERS AND BOILERS.

The German Practical Engineers' Protective Association sent a deputation yesterday to the Police Commissioners to ask that some action be taken by the Board to get the Legislature to repeal the law which gives the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company authority to inspect boilers and issue licenses to engineers to work in this city. The counsel licenses to engineers to work in this city. The counsel for the association explained that under chapter 614 of the Laws of 1874 the inspection of boilers and the appointment of engineers employed by persons who have their toilers insured in the above mentioned company is taken away from the Police Board, and that by this means engineers were mulcited heavily and would in all probability be taxed more heavily if the law were not repealed. Mr. Bernhard, of the association, condemned the teating of boilers by hammering or tapping the plates. He said that since the hydrostatic test had been adopted lew accidents had occurred. In this connection the deputation remarked that the Burtlord company will make ne payments nor maure boilers in charge of engineers licensed by the Police Board. General Smith said that the Commissioners were of the same opinion as the Protective Association, and believed that the inspection and supervision of boilers and engineers should be vested in a department; but he thought that department should be the Building Department.
